SPICE UP YOUR LIFE! - WITH STACEY CHRISTIE AND KITTY

It's all very well waiting for Friday or Saturday night to come around so you can party, but what exactly do you do when that time arrives? During a manicure at my local hotel health spa I decided that I would change my social life. My eye had been drawn to a poster advertising an open evening to be held at the hotel. This event turned my life upside down.

Kitty and I attended a very informative slide show and talk. The folks were really helpful and enthusiastic about a better social life for all. The national group has ten regional offices and well over 10,000 members and is called "SPICE" www.spiceuk.com.

SPICE stands for Special Programme of Initiative, Challenge, and Excitement. SPICE was set up over twenty years ago to cater for everyday people wanting to do extraordinary things. The events are VERY varied. You can go ballooning, canoeing, rock climbing, or rally driving, etc etc

But you don't have to throw yourself out of a plane if you don't want to though! There are many less stressful ways to while away your time. Pub meets, theatre trips, and informative walks around towns and cities are just a few examples.

By far the most fun I've had though MUST be the SPICE fancy dress parties. When was the last time you went to a good fancy dress party? I went on a very successful 'St Trinians Train Trip'.

Kitty and I went dressed as two 'naughty' St Trinian girls. We walked down the main High Street in Sutton Coldfield, hockey sticks in hand, and waited outside McDonalds for the coach to take us to 'Chinnor railway station'. Fortunately thanks to SPICE we weren't on our own. The actual steam locomotive at Chinnor was the one used in the St Trinian film and it would be pulling our train.

The time on the coach journey was occupied by singing, and plenty of 'old fashioned' sweets (mmm Refreshers and Sherbert Dib-Dabs...) Everyone was dressed to suit ie uniform, schoolgirls, schoolboys, and even a few head masters!

When we arrived at the station, 'angry protestors' besieged us trying to stop St Trinians buying the local manor house and moving in to ruin their lives.

Whoaaa Whoaaa!! The train steamed into the station. The 'rabble' boarded, and off we went. Each carriage had 80's music, food and there were two bars on the train. There was plenty of fun and games on the train, loud singing competitions, and loads of larking about. Fabulous.

All too quickly the evening came to a close. We all boarded the coaches for the ride back home dropping off people en route.

When we got back I was pleased to find that I hadn't even laddered my stockings!

One last thing though, the best time I have ever had? A flight in a Jet provost! Now that really did turn my life upside down LITERALLY

ONCE IN A LIFETIME - WITH MARTINA

There are moments in life when it's necessary to hit life's "pause" button and do a reality check. First kiss, first bike crash, first child. Add you own list here.

It's Ladies Day at Royal Ascot Horse Races. The sun's shining, we've enjoyed a full champagne lunch complete with strawberries and cream. Now it's time to gloss the lips and parade. We're strolling a long a path surrounded by thousands of beautifully dressed women. That is beautifully dressed, not fashionably dressed, since current fashion consists of jeans, trainers and opinionated T-shirts. We're talking female fashion at its absolute. Full skirts, dynamic dresses, killer heels and, of course, glorious hats. All in the full rainbow of colours and fabrics.

The girls are laughing and chatting like old friends, with warmth that would be alien to the same number of, X-chromosome challenged, individuals trudging to a footy match.

We are parading in similar summer dresses, skirts, high heels and hats. We are part of this, not interlopers. We are strolling with them; chatting, laughing, explaining who we are. The snippets of eager conversation flow. How many... why... lovely hat... what lipstick.... gorgeous.... are you coming next year?

Time to find some 'French dinner steaks' running on the race track.

At the track barrier, a male voice from behind, causes us to miss a step. "Well lads, (hic!) shall we do the Crocodile Dundee test?" Buoyed up by the beauty of the day I turn confidently and sweep my waterfall of wavy auburn hair over one shoulder. "No need lads - offer drinks and see if we take the pint or the champagne flute." The knuckle dragger changes colour and remembers an urgent appointment elsewhere. His associates check their shoes. We decide to go easy on them. "Since you have haven't offered us drinks, would you care for a glass of our champagne?" Utterly out classed in the battle of wits they smile and chat, their hand thrust into pockets as they fail to comprehend.

What a special day - my thanks to Josie, Teresa and Lisa at Adam to Eve www.adameve121.co.uk 02077297447 for the make up, champagne, wonderful food and (no-doubt) the perfect weather. Also thanks to Steve the coach driver for the Transport and lunch time humour - Quote of the day from Steve "Yer wouldn't catch me doin' it but I've got every respect for anyone having the balls to do it."

Sixteen hours en-femme and I wouldn't have missed a minute of it.

JOBS FOR THE "GIRLS" - WITH ANDREA

So just how did the London Edge Fashion Fair cope with an "alternative" girl model assisting at their check in desk and around the fair. Well she was certainly prominent compared to many diminutive girl hostesses, especially in 5" high stiletto thigh boots! Unsurprisingly at a fair where anything can go (well almost) my presence raised few concerns, and much admiration. "I wish I had legs like yours" from the girls and "nice arse!" from the boys!

Once again the London Edge Trade Fashion Fair provided a great opportunity for Andrea to strut her stuff, but also to afford a behind the scenes glimpse of this well run trade fashion fair. So helping out at the registration desk seemed the right place to start. This has become a truly international fair with people arriving from all over Europe and indeed beyond. Their details that I helped collect provide valuable contacts for both the trade stands and for future events. But simply helping at the desk did not allow me to show off my legs and that the fantastic skirt provided by "The Collectif" for me to wear at their stand (as their "uniform"). So I was pleased to be assigned to be one of the Hostesses at the various stairway entrances that leads to the fair. At these checkpoints our duty was to swipe peoples registration tags and hence track their interests.

Here I was very much out in the open and in the thick of things. My spell at this checkpoint was sufficient for admiration for the legs before leaving for my main duty of the day as a Hostess at The Collectifs stand.

Writing about the numerous stands at this twice-yearly fair is one thing, but spending some time on a stand as a Hostess gave a new insight as to what's hot in the alternative fashion scene. This was The Collectif's fifth London Edge and they once again went down a storm. Their latest fashions grabbed the attention and order book of many buyers.

Girl Talk - (Magazines)

EXTREMELY POPULAR From the West Coast USA this lifestyle magazine features possibly the most glossy photo shoots on the tranny scene in a VERY professional Hollywood style. The models are great, the advice from make-up artists and stylists is excellent. The reports on the USA scene are fun and enlightening. This is a great magazine to collect and it's all good clean fun.

The Lazy Crossdresser (book)

VERY POPULAR The jokey chapter titles like, "My Size - a random number between 8 and 16", undermines the quality of the advice in this book with 177 pages of text and sketches. But don't let me undermine the friendly, open and down right honesty of the author Charles Anders. This is a good read and is genuinely helpful.

TV & CD Current Views (book)

NEW EDITION This book by The Beaumont Society is a newly revised collection of articles by well qualified writers. It aims to answer, in a non judgemental, non directive way, many of the questions asked on their helplines, in a more detailed manner than a phone call can achieve. Subjects include labels, sexuality, transexualism, culture, history & law, counselling, support & coming out.

The Third Sex (book)

HIGHLY SORT AFTER The 'kathoei' phenomenon has been part of Thai culture for generations, it is the subject of a fascinating new book by Dr Richard Totman, a prize research fellow at Oxford University's Nuffield and a widely-travelled theatre director. He became probably the first "farang" (Thai for Westerner) to infiltrate the mysterious world of the ladyboys. He lived for months with kathoei girls and their families, learnt the language and spent much of his time talking to dozens of them and sharing their unique lifestyle.

TRADING FACES (VIDEO OR CDrom)
